

The Mizel Museum puts the

Spotlight on Destination Freedom Radio Days

Creative Journeys Summer Artist-in-Residence/Mentor Camps

Camp Scholarships

The Mizel Museum is offering generous scholarships to interested kids and families! Camps for Pre-K through Grade 6

Destination Freedom Radio Days

July 19 - July 23

Grades 4 through 6

9:00 am - 3:30 pm | $200

Artist-in-Residence: donnie I. betts

Sharing the stories of our heroes through the magic of live radio drama, the past becomes the present traveling on radio waves. Award-winning actor, producer, and director, donnie betts will engage children in a fun, interactive, intergenerational experience. Children will learn about the live radio format, scriptwriting, character voices, how to use microphones and recorders, and how to create sound effects. Campers will produce their own radio play and perform for the audience in a live radio broadcast.

donnie betts

donnie I. betts has extensive background in theatre, film, radio and video. He studied at Yale School of Drama and is a founding member of two theatre companies in Denver. In addition, donnie has been a professional storyteller for twenty years weaving tales from the American South, African and African American folktales and well as other cultures. His current documentary, Music is My Life, Politics My Mistress: The Story of Oscar Brown Jr., has won numerous awards.

MIZEL
MUSEUM

www.mizelmuseum.org

Visit the web site at www.mizelmuseum.org for registration information.

Register for camps by phone: 303-394-9993 ext. 103

Email: Jan C. Nadav at jcnadav@mizelmuseum.org